

regenHU

BIOSYSTEM ARCHITECTS

regenHU Ltd is shaping the future of healthcare , leading innovation in tissue and organ printing technologies. The company provides instruments and solutions to drive biology into the third dimension and address the challenges of Drug Discovery and Regenerative Medicine.

Located in Switzerland, between Fribourg and Lausanne, regenHU benefits from a working environment that promotes creativity and innovation. As a member of the CPA Group Ltd, its employees contribute to attaining a high level of performance and strong expertise in both industrial and high-tech fields. To learn more, please see our website www.regenHU.com

To support our growth, we are looking for a highly motivated

Equipment Technician (F/M)

Your main responsibilities:

- Provide customer training, after sales and maintenance services on an international level
- Provide on-site and remote customer support, including installation, setup, calibration, troubleshooting and repair
- Be involved in the manufacturing of standard products and prototypes
- Participate in the continuous development of our products
- Gather customers feedback for R&D production departments

Your profile:

- Technician, Engineer or equivalent degree
- Skilled in instrumentation related disciplines (mechanics, electronics, fluidics and programming knowledge)
- Experience diagnosing and repairing mechanical, electromechanical and/or electronic equipment
- Experience troubleshooting and responding to customers concerns
- Willing to travel, at times for extended periods
- Fluent in English. French, German and others languages - a plus
- Flexible with excellent interpersonal skills
- Fascination for science and motivation to work on breakthrough technologies
- Quick adaptability and willing to learn about biofabrication field

Beginning: immediately or upon agreement

You are willing to join us ? Kindly apply now :

regenHU Ltd,
ava@regenHU.com